

At Macy's, our pricing cadence varies for each item, based on the nature and seasonality of the merchandise, its family of business, and customer response. Some items rarely go on sale prior to clearance; others, particularly seasonal fashion items, go on sale more frequently as part of promotional or clearance events.

As a fashion item, Izod shirts generally start on the sales floor at regular price, then are included in a variety of sale events before being marked down for clearance. The Izod shirt you reference currently is marked down for clearance.

The Calphalon cookware set you identified has been on and off sale at various times over the past two months and has been offered at both regular and sale prices.

Style & Co handbags generally also are on and off sale. We cannot provide any more detailed information without knowing more about the specific item you mentioned.

Macy's prides itself on offering interesting merchandise which provides great value to its customers.
